

Dear Customer,

We've got exciting news to share! ARG Industrial is taking your hydraulic hose solutions to the next level. After years of supplying Danfoss' Weatherhead hose, we're upgrading our offering to Aeroquip – Danfoss' flagship hydraulic hose brand is one of the most recognized names of quality hydraulic hose and fittings in the industry.

WHY THIS MATTERS

→ SAME TRUSTED QUALITY, NEW FLAGSHIP NAME

Weatherhead products are fully interchangeable with Aeroquip, including fittings, crimpers, and crimp specifications — delivering the same reliability from the same trusted manufacturer.

→ CUTTING-EDGE INNOVATION

With continued investments in Aeroquip, Danfoss R&D ensures you receive the latest technology and the highest-quality products.

→ STRONGER SUPPLY & AVAILABILITY

Danfoss's extensive inventory and strategically located warehouses shorten our supply chain, enabling us to move Aeroquip products faster and serve you better.

Seamless inventory transition, orders and assemblies will automatically convert to Aeroquip part numbers

Sales support with rolling change product replacement, part number wall charts, and our signature customer service

Crimper transition guides & training, convenient relabeling options for part bins and stock

This transition is more than a name change—it's an upgrade that delivers real benefits for your business adding increased product availability, cutting-edge innovation, and the proven trust and performance you expect from Danfoss products and ARG Industrial's customer focused services.

If you have questions or would like to learn more about Aeroquip products, our team is ready to help.
